2011 Activities

- Barry Conservation Camp in Berlin NH
Adopted and renovated a cabin, serving nearly 200 campers each year. We applied for and received a $5,000 educational grant from SCI Foundation.
- Disabled Hunter Program
Our chapter purchased a Renegade Wheelchair allowing a disabled hunter access to his favorite pastime. Contributions came in from SCIF, and many chapters and individual donors.
- Youth Hunter Program
Our Chapter sponsored the first NH Youth Pheasant Weekend, mentoring young hunters to enjoy upland game hunting over well trained bird dogs.
- 'Safari In A Box' kits were provided to several local school systems to help in the elementary science curriculum. The kit provides teachers with valuable resources and ideas to introduce youth to important concepts of habitat, wildlife management and the impacts resulting from human and wildlife interactions.

Since the Chapter's beginning in 2001 we have provided over $53,000 to support our mission:

To protect our freedom to hunt and promote conservation worldwide

Dispute Over Prey by Robert Bateman

Beautifully Framed
Donated by members
Rick & Barb Church

The scene I've recreated here is common: the lioness makes the kill and the male moves in to commence the feast. A lioness is used to putting a male in his place in disputes over protecting cubs or a fresh kill. It's mostly bluff and bluser, but in the case of feeding, she usually lets him get his way. – RB

A painter, naturalist, and conservationist, Robert Bateman is one of the world's most celebrated contemporary wildlife artists. He was drawn to the wilderness as a child and further explored his love of nature and his study of natural ecosystems while working at a wildlife research camp in Algonquin Park, Ontario, Canada.
